The screenshot shows the Fairfax County Virginia RPPD login page. The page header includes the Fairfax County Virginia logo and navigation links: homepage > rppd login. The main heading is "RESIDENTIAL PERMIT PARKING DISTRICT PROGRAM (RPPD)". Below this, it says "Sign in to apply for permits and visitor passes:". There are two lines of instructional text: "If you do not have a login but already have active RPPD permits and / or passes please register for an account" and "If you are new to the RPPD system please register for an account". The login form includes fields for "User name:" and "Password:", a "Password Recovery" link, and a "Login" button. Three red callout boxes with arrows provide additional guidance: one points to the "register" link for existing permit holders, another points to the "register" link for new users, and a third points to the "Login" button for existing account holders. The browser's status bar at the bottom shows "Trusted sites | Protected Mode: Off" and a zoom level of 100%.
